

Why is high-quality nutrition worth the extra cost?

While you might wonder if you can afford to spend more on your horse's nutrition program, the real question is:
Can you afford not to?

Nutrition is the foundation of health.

High-quality ingredients add up to high-quality nutrition, which will lead to fewer health problems down the line. If you provide poor-quality nutrition now, you might pay for it later in vet bills, medications, treatments and your horse's discomfort — or you can feed the best and potentially save thousands in the long run. At Alltech, our equine specialty ingredients, supplements and feeds are formulated with only the highest-quality ingredients, so you can feed your horse with confidence

With Alltech products, you can:

- ✓ Support gut health and microbiome balance
- ✓ Promote optimal body condition
- ✓ Enhance the immune system
- ✓ Help promote optimal antioxidant status
- ✓ Improve reproductive function
- ✓ Promote joint health
- ✓ Support optimal growth and development
- ✓ Encourage healthy skin and coat condition
- ✓ Protect hoof health
- ✓ Enhance muscle recovery and repair
- ✓ Aid bone and connective tissue development

Offering low-quality nutrition may lead to:

- ✗ A decreased ability to fight infections and inflammation
- ✗ High risk for colic and digestive distress
- ✗ Increased potential for ulcers
- ✗ Decreased stress tolerance
- ✗ Diminished energy and performance
- ✗ Diminished recovery and endurance
- ✗ Dry, cracked, poor-quality hooves
- ✗ Sub-optimal growth and development
- ✗ Compromised joints, from bone to cartilage and connective tissue
- ✗ Increased susceptibility to anxiety
- ✗ Sub-optimal reproductive function
- ✗ Subpar skin and coat health
- ✗ Hormone imbalance and weight management issues
